Application Questions

*How did you find out about Hands and Feet of Asheville (HFA)?

*Tell us a little bit about yourself! What are you currently doing? What is exciting to you right now? What is challenging to you right now? (2-3 paragraphs)

What areas of work are you interested in pursuing during your program year with HFA? What WNC organizations are you interested in working and connecting with this year? (1-3 paragraphs)

*A Hands and Feet year focuses on transformation. What does transformation mean to you? What are you seeking in this year, and how might you hope to be transformed? (1-3 paragraphs)

*Hands and Feet embraces the connection between spirituality and justice. Are you willing to discuss spirituality, faith, and social justice throughout your program year? What is your spiritual background and current practice, if any? Describe your connection to social justice values? (2-4 paragraphs)

*One of the core values of Hands and Feet of Asheville is welcome for all. That means that member programs will welcome participants from all race, ethnicity, religion, ability, illness, sexual orientation, and gender identities. All applicants commit to live in a community that embraces this diversity, including sharing space with community members of many identities. By checking the box below, you agree to this.

- I agree
- I am curious about what this means; my questions are below.

My questions are:

*How have you explored your racial identity and/or any privileges you experience based on different elements of your identity? (1-2 paragraphs)

*What is your experience living with other people? What are your living habits and comfort levels around housemates? Are you open to having a roommate during the program year (sharing a room with someone)? (1 paragraph)

*One of HFA's core values is cultivating intentional community. What does community mean to you? How do you envision yourself participating in and creating that community? (1-2 paragraphs)

Do you have any additional questions or things you'd like us to know about you that weren't mentioned above?

Please upload your resume using the form or email it to handsandfeetavl@gmail.com.

We are so glad you applied - thank you for your interest in serving with Hands and Feet of Asheville! We will be in touch with you within a few days so we can continue the conversation.
